Main Street Kitchen / Dough Room

A kitchen by day, our Main Street Kitchen transforms into a fully private room for up to 22 guests seated at night. Vaulted ceilings with exposed beams carry from our main space into the Dough Room where all of our pizza and pasta doughs are prepared.

With plenty of space for a reception before sitting down to dinner, your guests will love the fresh modernity of the novel and innovative space.

Pasta making classes led by our Chef are also available by request.

The Main Street Kitchen is subject to a $300 room charge in addition to food and beverage costs. Please note, the December room charge is $400.

A 21% service charge, which covers gratuity, will be added to the room charge, preset menu costs, and all beverages.

See the previous page for family style set menu format.

If you require more space than our private rooms provide, we offer the option of buying out the full restaurant and patio.

Renata can adapt floor plans for corporate functions to weddings and everything in between.

The image shows the exterior of a restaurant named "Renata" during the day. The building has a light-colored wood-paneled upper section with the name "Renata" in a white, cursive script. Below this is a dark metal frame around large glass windows and doors. A group of people is gathered on a rooftop patio. Some are seated at tables, while others are standing and talking. A large white patio umbrella is visible on the right. In the foreground, there are some green plants and a concrete planter box. A white text box is overlaid on the right side of the image, providing capacity information.
